I am extremely fond of all kinds of sports. Dancing, basketball, football tennis and skating. I have played basketball for 2 years on the B. J. L. Team and football for 1 year.

I received the prize for the best citizenship last year and am president of Senior class '36

My ambition is to be a coach or a sports writer.

I was born in 1918, I lived in Frankfort Ky for five years. From there I moved to Louisville where I lived until I was thirteen. I then moved to Morehead where I entered Buckenridge Training School in the eighth grade.

My favorite hobby is collecting dogs. The study I like best is Manual Arts. My favorite sport is swimming. I have just learned to knit, and I find it very fascinating.

I finish High School this year. I want to become an Interior Decorator or a clothes designer.

I have lived in Morehead most of my life, but I have also lived in Maypsville Ky. and Cleveland O. While in Cleveland the principal called me his "little southern girl" because he couldn't understand a word I said.

I have been in this school since the 6th grade and I can truthfully say that Juanita Minish is the sweetest teacher in the coffin because she takes such a personal interest in every student.

I can't exactly say what my ambition is because I change it so often, but at the present I want to be a great Detective, probably due to "Charlie Chan's" influence, or a romantic newspaper woman, probably due to my being Training School Editor of the "Trail Blazer" and to the influence of our own "Local Lowdown".

Of all the things there is to do, I like most to dance. Swimming comes next as I was learning to do a double flip, when my swim ticket ran out. I love to travel as I have gone to Glee Club and orchestra practice many times in the hope of going to Ashland to broadcast, or enter state contests in Lexington. I play the fiddle and ^{piano} violin and drive the neighbors crazy, so before you are in the same shape I had better quit.

Kayo Hogge

I was born in the little town of Morehead, Ky. Sept. 10, 1917. In my first six grades I was very studious. In the rest of the grades I wasn't so much.

When I became a Freshman I thought I was a man, but I changed my mind before I became a Sophomore.

In my Sophomore year I started to ——— but I didn't go out for sports. The second semester began to play basketball with not much success.

In my Junior year I played basketball and football very successfully. Now my favorite sport is basketball and my hobby is taking trips. My life hasn't been so dull as it seems. My ambition to be a lawyer will be sustained. I graduated the first semester of 1936.

Alumni of Breckinridge Training School Pay Real Tribute to Their Alma Mater

By Sam Bradley, Jr.

On alumni night of the presentation of the senior play, "Growing Pains," a tribute to Breckinridge was paid by her graduates. Year after year an increasing number of Breckinridge graduates take their place in college work and activities, already a part of the institution, with high loyalties for its objectives and tradition. From the heart of the institution, in the educational sense, comes a large portion of our school spirit, which is the real life and hope of every institution.

If our college work could be brought up to the standards required in the training school, we would have fewer stereotype teachers, better students, and more student leaders. College work, for the majority of students, is indeed a dull process. Impersonal, heartless, non-unified and uninspiring. Until our educators learn to practice what they preach, college will remain unable to mould or even greatly influence the individual.

However, the alumni of Breckinridge look back upon a career of real growth in their high school years. In contact with people who daily practice the highest professional ethics, the meaning of honest, straight forward, intellectually-alert living. They acquired self-integrity and the power of self-expression, character traits all too lacking in the average college student. Theirs was a liberal education in high school quite opposed to the conservation of college education.

This type of educational development has real and abiding value. It is possible that we put altogether too much emphasis on material things—in wealth and appearances and in the gathering of knowledge. Sooner or later we learn that all the enormous piling up of benefits, "reputation", and knowledge has profited us not one whit. Indeed, college students are glad to forget most of the ineffective conditioning and impractical knowledge with which they are obliged to cram their minds. They are taught to learn, not to think. They are shown how to live for appearances, not for any real inner satisfaction drawn from life.

In these conditions, with which the new Breckinridge graduate will be confronted, lie the most vital flaws in our institution. The new graduate, coming straight from the educational heart of the institution, will bring new vigor, fresher school spirit, higher concepts of living and of education. In their hands lie the future progress which must be made.

With regret for his many failures with highest respect for his liberal education in Breckinridge, with love of Morehead College, the old graduate is proud to put his confidence in the new graduate. College will change him thoroughly, yet in that change he can help lift his college to new standards. He can keep his self-integrity and power of self-expression but he will have to fight many a bitter battle.

"GROWING PAINS" was a splendid production. The characters were well chosen. It was good because the plot was so real to the character that they could be natural and not give the impression they were acting a part.

Pauline Butcher and Orville Redwine were my favorites.

I thought it was excellent, that the characters fit their parts.

News From The Training School

On Wednesday, April 1, the physiology class, under the direction of Lucille Catlett, had charge of the chapel program. Dorsey Long announced the speakers and their subjects. John Paul Messer gave a talk about measles; Marjorie Hawkins explained the need for plenty of sleep, and Mobie Davis stated the advantages of fresh air and sunshine. Dorothy Nash gave a history of T. B. and its prevention and cure. Chester Riddle explained the significance of the T. B. test that was given recently in the Training School. Virginia Howard spoke on the types of food we should eat and what vitamins they contained. Ben Johnson gave an amusing talk on posture and illustrated certain types.

Kenneth Bays presented a singular talk on cleanliness by warning everybody against B. O. and urging them to have clean minds as well as clean bodies. Harold Allen expained the work of the blood stream.

April Fool Brings Biggest Scoop of Year as The Profs Fail Sanity Test

By O. Whatta Phool

We regret to divulge that all the Morehead teachers failed on the Sanity Test given Wednesday, April 1, specified by the Penal Committee of the Kentucky legislature. This test was given to those professors who deserve to continue teaching after the governor autographs the bill turning the college into an insane asylum. The rejuvenated institution will take up the function of granting Kentucky colonels.

The Ph.d's made, as was expected, the lowest grades. Both Dean Vaughan and Prexy Babb refused to take the test on the grounds that they might be judged sane.

"Rexy" Hoke hit a new low after tripping over his watch chain and discovering the missing link. A. Y. Lloyd disputed the validity of the test, maintaining it to be contrary to the history of civilization.

Dr. Emma Ophelia Bach wrote her paper in Russian and is assured a position in the English department. Lewis Horton, recently revealed as the author of "Wahoo", was ineligible for the test.

Pepper Estrem arrived late for the examination. Hudson and Falls did not show up. It is rumored that he was seen drinking orange pop with "Toots" Milton at the College Inn and was found lying under the table. Emmett Bradley was eminent in scoring highest on the paper-doll cut-out section, with "Billy-boy" Scroggins running a close second. Dr. Miller is said to have remarked that the test was entirely too advanced for such youngsters as he.

"What the" Ella Wilkes forgot her good head and had to go back after it. Keithy Davis, in the throes of deep thought, chewed all the hair off his chest. Fincel gave him the gray hairs off one of his oldest "jokes" (or perhaps it was Terrell, Miller, Falls, or Hoke). Terrell gazed too long at an undisclosed youngish ankle and is still in a trance. He is assured of a position as head of the psychology department.

Two professors were kicked out when found cheating. They were Prof. Fair and Willie Welter, caught measuring his answers with a tape worm. "The flaming blond" Carr was jealous of the specimen and tattled. She will be the new dean of women.

This is the greatest shake-up in the history of the institution, and was enjoyed by all. After the test was completed, pickles and ice-cream was served by "Daddy" Gammage, at a nominal cost. Gammage was appointed chemistry professor on his merits. A parting soothing comment was given by "Madcap" Morris, who yelled, "Quiet, please!"

CONVERTS: Reporters keep their heads of his favorite reform agency back to Washington reveal the impression on industrialists who have made quiet pilgrimages to Tapes to look him over. They are passing around the word that he is solid, homely, comfortable and sensible.

But the Kansas Governor is widely sidestepping any alliance with Big Business which the Democratic could capitalize. He wants the support but on his own terms. When a wealthy anti-New Dealer (a former member of Secretary Hopper's Business Advisory Committee) expressed a willingness to double his normal contribution to the GOP, Mr. Landon disinterestedly explained that business and industry could serve in a more productive and less politically dangerous way. "Here's how I look at it," replied the governor. "Every manufacturer and business man has scores of acquaintances who think his judgment. What they should do is explain to their friends what the National Deal means in higher taxes, larger deficits and hindrances to real recovery. What we need is not more money but more missionaries!"

MANDATE: At a recent cabinet meeting Harold Ickes submitted evidence designed to refute certain federal government. The secretary of the interior described his most vote in history.

He gave the results of 2100 elections in which the people vote for or against bond issues to help finance PWA projects with a 5 per cent contribution by the local government. This meant, Mr. Ickes explained, that the voters passed on the question of imposing higher taxes on themselves to pay off local issues. More than 11,000,000 ballots were cast, he reported. The president, and only 1,870,000 or 17 per cent—opposed the bond issue.

The vote disclosed curious but understandable trends. Newly settled regions were more favorably disposed than well established sections like New England. The people preferred old familiar things.

Regional Journey To Begin Friday

Drawings Will Be Held Tomorrow In The Administration Building.

Morehead State Teachers College will be host to eight high school teams in the Eighth Regional Basketball Tournament which will be held here next Friday and Saturday. The winners and runners up of the four district tournaments will participate for the right to represent this region in the state tourney at Lexington.

As in the past, Clark B. Lane has been appointed as tournament manager and will be assisted by Coach G. D. Downing and W. B. Jackson.

The plans are to start tournament play at 2:00 p. m. Friday. In the past the tournament has been opened on Thursday afternoon. However, since the discontinuance of the girls' teams and tournaments, the time has hung rather heavy and it was decided to use but two days for the tournament play. Eight teams will take part in the tourney, winners and runners-up in the districts which comprise the region.

The second session will be held Friday night at 7:00 p. m. with the semi-finals coming on Saturday afternoon at 2:00 p. m. and the finals, one game at 8:00 o'clock Saturday night.

College Buildings To Be Erected

Louisville Contractor Is The Successful Bidder

MOREHEAD, Ky., March 6.—The Struck Construction Company, Louisville, successful bidder on the $255,000 Science Building and $181,000 dormitory for the Morehead State Teachers College, expect to start work on the project by May 15, according to an announcement from the administration at the school today.

The Board of Regents at a called meeting placed their final approval on the $336,000 loan-grant from the Works Progress Administration.

Work will be started on both buildings as soon as work orders are received from WPA headquarters.

When completed the science building will be one of the most modern structures of its kind in the south. Plans for it have been drafted over a number of years, with the result that officials at the institution feel they have a modern building adequate for all branches in the Science Department at Morehead. The dormitory will be unique in that it will provide accommodations for married couples.

Meanwhile the $255,000 light, heat and water plant is practically completed.

Plans For Regional Tourney Are Made

Beginning on Friday of next week Morehead will again entertain the championship teams of the district in the Regional Basketball tournament of this section of the state. Plans have been made to hold the regional drawings on Sunday of next week in the administration building of the Morehead State Teachers College, who are again hosts to the visiting teams.

As in the past, Clark B. Lane has been appointed as tournament manager and will be assisted by Coach G. D. Downing and W. B. Jackson. The plans are to start tournament play at 2:00 p. m. Friday. In the past the tournament has been opened on Thursday afternoon. Three Entrants Tie In Amateur Contest

Billy Black, Stan Arnzen, And Jones Boys Split Prize Money.

A large crowd enjoyed the Amateur Contest which was held after the operetta, "Trial by Jury," Wednesday night. L. H. Horton, master of ceremonies, could not determine the winner by the applause, and declared a three way tie between Stan Arnzen, crooner; Billy Black, bass horn, and the Jones Boys, old time music. The first prize of five dollars which was raised to about nine by voluntary subscription, was split between the three contestants.

Other participants on the amateur program were Jane Young, tap dancer; Lawrence Bowling, monologue; Dorothy Lee McKinney, song and dance; Jubilee quartet; Edith Wood, tap dancer; Flo Ella Evans, tap dancer; Mary Caldwell Haggan, reader; Kathryn Barber, acrobatic stunts; Harmonizers Quartet; Dorothy Graver, toe-tap strut; violin quartet; Sarah Eleanor Bradley, song and dance, and Pattie Caudill, acrobatic tap dancer.

Soldier Beats Breck 22 To 17 In Tourney

Breck Rallies In Last Half But Can Not Catch Soldier.

Alie Holbrook's Soldiers proved too good for Bob Laughlin's Training School aggregation Thursday night and eliminated them from the district tourney by a 22 to 17 count. The Soldier team had a 12 to 5 lead at the half.

The game started slowly and the score was 2 all at the conclusion of the first quarter. Soldier forged ahead in the next canto and led 12 to 5 at the half. The Breck defense tightened in the third quarter and they held the Soldier team to two points while they were making seven, the count at the end of the third period being 14 to 12 in favor of Soldier. A desperate rally in the last quarter failed to catch the flying Soldiers.

Three men were ejected from the game for four personal fouls, Breck losing Long, and Soldier, Cundiff and Barker.

The Soldier team will meet Haldeman in their next game.

Breck Beats Grayson 37 To 17

The Breckinridge Training School blasted out a 37 to 17 victory over the quintet from Grayson here Saturday night to end their regular season in a blaze of glory.

The Third Grade Class of the Breckinridge Training School entertained with a surprise birthday party for Miss Katherine Morrison last Friday afternoon, February 28, in their room. Miss Morrison celebrated her second birthday anniversary which fell on Saturday, February 29, but actually she was eight years old. The class, under the supervision of their teacher, Miss Kathleen Moore, served a delightful ice course and cut the birthday cake with its eight candles.

TEAM LEAVES FOR CAROL MEET TUE

—Dr. Welter

The Senior High School play was one of the most successful high school plays that I've seen and heard from the angles of both entertainment and appropriateness. The participants not only seemed to know their lines and characterizations but knew them so well that they at least gave the appearance of being very much at home and also of enjoying their parts.

—Ernestine Troemel.

It was one of the very best performances that I have ever seen produced by any high-school group. Each character was suitably cast and the parts were played exceptionally well. The scenes were fittingly laid; and so admirably depicted by the acting, that they may have been imagined as having taken place in any typical home where there are adolescent children.

INAUGURATION IS TO BE HELD

Gov. Chandler Is To Speak At Exercises

MOREHEAD, Ky., Feb. 22.—Plans for the official inauguration of Prof. Harvey A. Babb as president of the Morehead State Teachers College, released today by the administration, shows addresses by Governor A. B. Chandler, H. W. Peters, state superintendent of public instruction and Dr. Frank L. McVey, president of the University of Kentucky. Music for the occasion will be furnished by the college orchestras and choral clubs. Every institution of higher learning in Kentucky, and many of the larger Colleges and Universities in the nation will be represented at the inauguration.

Work On Buildings At College Delayed

While no men have as yet been requested from the National Re-employment Office for labor on the new buildings for the College, the work is expected to start in the near future and the Stuck Construction Company, general contractors, have been busy unloading machinery this week. A break in the weather will probably mean an immediate start on the projects.

W. A. Blevens, and O. B. Ratcliff of the National Re-employment Office in Ashland, have been here this week going over plans for the selection of labor to be used in the federal projects. They have been conferring with C. T. Stafford, manager of the local office, who will supply the men for the work.

The houses which were recently sold from the Arthur Hogge property to Wilford Waltz have already been wrecked and the property cleared so that work will be ready to start whenever the word is said. Mr. Waltz has moved the lumber from the house to his property at the upper end of Wilson Avenue where he plans on erecting a new home in the near future.

BRECKINRIDGE UPSETS SOLDIER HIGH 23-20

MOREHEAD, Ky., Feb. 22.—Bobby Laughlin's Breckinridge Training School basketball team scored a surprising upset last night by downing the Soldier High five at Soldier 23-20. Breck's win was achieved by the same margin that Soldier defeated them on the Morehead floor.

Two of Breckinridge's players did not make the Soldier trip because there is an epidemic of mumps there.

Breck Defeats Ewing 26 to 20

Breckinridge defeated Ewing 26 to 20 in a game played in the College gymnasium Saturday night. Breck led 10 to 5 at the half.

Long and Carr led the Breck attack, scoring 8 and 9 points respectively. Stockdale was best for Ewing with 6 points.

The Breck team played a polished game and are easily the best quint on the floor. Prichard and Babb played good defensive games.

Breck made 9 field goals and 8 foul shots, while Ewing made 8 field goals and 4 foul shots.

In a preliminary game the Breck second team defeated the Ewing seconds by 14 to 13. Carr led the seconds with 7 points.

Breck Defeats Soldier, 23 to 20

Bobby Laughlin's Breckinridge Training School basketball team scored an upset victory over the Soldier High five at Soldier last Friday night, winning by 23 to 20. The Breck team gained revenge for a defeat handed them by Soldier here earlier in the season when the Soldier team won by a three point margin.

The Laughlin team was minus the services of two players who did not make the trip because of an epidemic of mumps at Soldier but the reserves played a bang-up game.

Breckinridge meets Soldier in the first round of the district tournament at Olive Hill next week and the game should be a toss-up since they have divided honors in their two games.

Breck Draws Soldier, Vikings Draw "Bye" In District Meet To Be Held At Olive Hill

The Breckinridge Training School drew Soldier and the Morehead High School drew a bye in the first round of the fifty-sixth district tournament which will be held at Olive Hill March 5, 6, and 7. Both the local teams are in the lower bracket and thus only one of them can go to the finals.

The only other first round matches in the lower bracket is between Haldeman and Hitchins. Grayson drew a bye and will meet Morehead in the second round. The winner of the Breck-Soldier game will play the winner of the Haldeman-Hitchins game, and the winner of this game will meet the winner of the Grayson-Morehead game, the winner of this contest entering the finals.

In the upper bracket, Olive Hill and Sandy Hook drew byes and will meet in the second round, and Carter City and Denton also drew byes and meet in the second round. The winner of the Olive Hill-Sandy Hook game will meet the winner of the Carter City-Denton game, the winner going to the finals.

The drawings for positions were made in Olive Hill last Sunday afternoon. Kufahl and Darby were selected as officials for the tourney.

If the training school can get by Soldier they should have a good chance to get to the finals, while Olive Hill and Carter City should be the main contenders in the upper bracket.

Wallops Grayson 37-17 In Tuneup For District Tournament

MOREHEAD, Ky., March 3.—In their final game prior to the District tournament at Olive Hill this week-end, the Breckinridge Training school had comparatively little trouble in subduing a highly regarded Grayson five 37-17 on the college floor.

Bobby Laughlin's boys, paced by Long with 11 points and Daugherty who scored 9, ran up a 20-7 advantage at the half, and with numerous substitutes in the game increased the advantage through the last two quarters for a 20-point victory.

The game installed Breckinridge as the favorite to carry through the lower bracket of the District meet and an opportunity to play Olive Hill in the finals. Breck has come along fast under Laughlin's tutoring and is confident of taking the Ekay Conference champions.

Norris tallied 9 points for scoring honors for Grayson.

The lineups:
Breckinridge 37 17 Grayson
Tatum 4 F 1 Womack
Holbrook 2 F 9 Norris
Long 11 C 2 Hendrickson
Pitchard 5 G 3 Willhoit
Babb 1 G 1 Prichard
Substitutes: Breck — Daugherty
9, Fraley 3, Crosthwaite, Allen 2.
Grayson—Huff 1.

Breck Wins Last Game Of Season

The Breckinridge Training School blasted out a 37 to 17 victory over the quintet from Grayson here Saturday night to end their regular season in a blaze of glory. The Grayson team had previously defeated the strong Olive Hill aggregation and Breck's win proves they will have to be reckoned with when the district tourney at Olive Hill gets underway today.

Long, Breckinridge center, led the scoring with eleven tallies, Daugherty of the training school and Norris of Grayson scored nine each to tie for second place honors.

The Breck team took an early lead and held it throughout the contest although Coach Bob Laughlin substituted freely. Breck led 21 to 7 at the half time.

The training school meets Soldier at eight o'clock in the first round of the district tourney, Olive Hill. This game should be a close one since the teams have divided honors in the two games that they have played.

Marionette Show "Huck Finn And Tom Sawyer" To Be Held At Auditorium Monday, February 17

tions of the double bills.

The C. Roy Smith Company is America's largest marionette show and carries elaborate lighting, sound, and stage equipment. More than one hundred large, life-like, marionettes are in the cast—they will walk, talk, sing, dance, and skate; play instruments, do circus tricks, provide grand entertainment, and bring to life the thrilling story of Tom Sawyer and Huckleberry Finn.

Mark Twain's hilarious comedy-drama will appeal to young and old.

The Beaux Arts Club of the college who are sponsoring the two performances have secured exceptionally low prices for the Morehead showing: 15c for children, 25c for high school and college students, and 35c for adults. Tickets are now being sold by members of the Beaux Arts Club, by some of the training school students, and at the Eagles Nest. The sponsor's urge everyone to buy their tickets early to avoid a last minute rush at the box office.

- Opal Blanton — Opal, you are too short. Why don't you grow some?
- Volney Skaggs — High school Seniors should have more dignity than to ride bicycles and hop wagons.
- Margaret Penix — A senior should have more school spirit than "to ruin" the basket ball team.
- Dore Bays — It has been said that genius or dumbbells don't speak to people. Are you one of these or has the cat got your tongue?
- Lena Johnson — Shame on you, for keeping the country boys up so late at night, they are supposed to go to bed with the chicken.
- Nadine Porter — Your husband can also knock you better than we can.
- Luther Bradley — Although you are a man of the world remember that we will be some day!
- Eugene Hinton — Who couldn't make A's if they had taken the same subjects for 3 years?
- Virginia Howard — A Senior should be more sophisticated than to play with eighth graders.
- Quanita Howard — With the grades you are making now you will be in school with your grandchildren.

Marjorie Hawkins — "It's a good thing you live in a small town —
In big cities people are fined for flirting."

Charlie Barnes — These so-called wild parties aren't quite the thing for high school students — Do you think?

Erville Redwine — A know-it-all is the most useless piece of furniture I can imagine.

Daynelle Hollan — Your husband can knock you better than we can.

Virginia Vencell — Is it a fact that you are trying a new chemical compound to reduce you, while you sleep?

Ralph Holbrook — You may be the most popular senior but you are just "pappy" to the rest of the world. Now blunk!

Dorsey Long — When you go to college, instead of being a good athlete, you will be just another headache to the coach.

Kayo Hogge — We know you are in class because your name is called. That's the only reason.

Josephine Alpey — You have had things your way for 17 yrs, but now you can't be the baby any longer.

Sam Redwine — Why don't you give everybody a break and go some place? Your concert is too tiresome.

Elizabeth Ricketts — That red dress doesn't match your hair so well. May we suggest orchid, or heliotrope?

Dorothy Nash — You are a good example of how to be happy though fat.

The members of the Senior class want to express their appreciation to every member of the faculty and of the official staff, to the students, and all other friends who have cooperated with us in producing this play. Your interest has encouraged us to do the best work of which we are capable.

We are especially grateful to the alumni club. Your loyalty to your alma mater has renewed our faith in you and inspired in us a greater loyalty to Breckinridge. We have tried to live up to the standard set by you in the plays produced in previous years.

We hope you enjoy our production.

The senior class of the Breckinridge Training School are to be commended for their excellent work in the production of the play "Growing Pains", by Aurania Rouverol, on Tuesday and Wednesday evenings in the Training School Auditorium.

The cast was well chosen. Miss Dorothy Nash gave the most convincing portrayal of the harassed mother of two adolescence children just beginning to feel their first "growing pains" and Jimmie Babb as their father, an absent minded professor who didn't quite know what to do about it all, was most pleasing.

The two children, Terry and George, were well played by Pauline Butcher and Orville Redwine. One felt with Terry that "being civilized" did sometimes spoil the fun of life and George made one feel the tragedy of being "too young".

A good piece of character acting was Ione Bays' portrayal of the unattractive daughter of a domineering mother, capably played by Elizabeth Ricketts. Marjorie Hawkins made a most successful vamp who caused trouble for both Terry and George, and the rest of the characters helped to make the play a real success and to provide an evening of most enjoyable entertainment.

Credit for the selection and the smoothness of the production must go to Miss Juanita Minish, sponsor of the senior class and Miss Lucille Caudill, who assisted her in directing.

"In order to have a friend, you must first be one." - Emerson.

I was born in Rowan county May, 16, 1919. When I was very young I moved to Ohio where I lived most of my life. I entered Beckwith Training School when I was a Junior - 1935. I have enjoyed being in the Training School immensely.

My hobbies are: reading, hiking, & swimming.

One of my principal ambitions is to take a trip around the world, and live in New York. I want to be a foreign language teacher and pull people's ears and call them "badpoles" like Minish does.

All of my life I have been accused of being fat and lazy, but some day when I become famous I'll make them change their minds.

This is all I have to say since I have never been sick, never had an operation and have never been to Europe.

I was born January 21, 1920, in Somerset, Kentucky, and attended the school there until November of '35, when we came to Marehead. My Somerset Hi. activities were: Band - '33 '34 '35; Glee Club - associate editor '33 - Ed. in chief '35; Public speaking '34; Art Club '33 '34 '35; Girl Reserves '33; Library Club - '34 '35; Dramatic Club '34; Mayant Club '34-'35. Activities in Buck: "Local Lawdown Staff," role in Senior play, and Minstrel Club.

My "regular" hobbies are swimming (and hunting, believe it or not); my "sit still" hobbies - reading and drawing. My "pet like" is china dogs, of which I now have various and sundry types, and pet grackles are alarm clocks and any persons who delight in singing "Wahoo."

"A foolish consistency is the hobgoblin of little minds"

I was successfully born August 4th 1920, I was the fifth in a line of very promising daughters. During my childhood I attended school (which was quite natural) in several places, the last being dear old Breckinridge.

I have no favorite teachers and now that I have graduated I like them all tremendously.

I am very fond of sports, tennis, swimming, and dancing being my favorites. I am also quite fond of riding, fishing, and golf.

My ambition varies with my moods. But most of my time I want to be a aviator or a journalist.

It has been my one desire to see my dear Miss Minick married. My suggestion is Jesse J. Mays, and I hope that when I come back on a vacation that I will be able to congratulate them.

I play the piano, clarinet, and tap dance.
